MOTEL FIRE TAKES LIVES OF FAMILY

BLAIRSVILLE, Pa. (AP)—A young couple and their two children suffocated today in a pre-dawn fire at a sprawling 2-story motel two miles east of this southwestern Pennsylvania town.

A brother-in-law of one of the victims was seriously injured in a desperate rescue attempt.

The victims, found huddled in a bathroom where they were trapped in their frantic attempt to escape, were: Glenn F. Strayer, 23; his wife, Janet, 19, and their two children, Cherry Ann, 2, and John, 4 months.

Clair Wolford, 38, brother-in-law of Strayer, suffered a severe back injury as he fell about 15 feet from the roof. He is in Latrobe Hospital.

Mrs. Wolford, a sister of Strayer, told this story:

"We live across the road from the motel. About 5 a. m. we were awakened by the shouting of the men in the motel. There were eight units on the first floor, along with a little kitchen. My brother and his family lived upstairs in an apartment.

"Some pipeline construction workers were in the motel units. My husband rushed over to the motel when he saw it blazing. Some of the pipe line workers boosted him on top of the roof and he smashed a window trying to get in.

"A lot of smoke rolled out and poor Clair fell off the roof backwards. My God, it was terrible. My poor brother, his wife and kids were found in the bathroom. They must have been

Tropical Storm Starts Performing Like a Hurricane

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP)—Tropical storm Ella increased in size during the night and, very likely in intensity, the Weather Bureau said today.

This probably would make Ella, a lumbering mass for the past few days, a hurricane.

A morning bulletin from the Weather Bureau here said gale warnings and a hurricane watch are in effect from south of Corpus Christi to Galveston, Tex.

An earlier advisory said the storm was headed toward the central Texas coast and warned of rising tides.

A spokesman for the Weather Bureau said coastal roads between Galveston and Port Arthur and in Louisiana's Cameron Parish already were closed by water.

The center of the storm was placed a little less than 400 miles east-southeast of Corpus Christi. It was moving in the general direction of the middle Texas coast at 12 to 14 miles an hour.

The Weather Bureau said winds and tides will increase today and tonight.

Dachshund Wins a Medal Saving Family of Her Owner

SAN PEDRO, Calif. (AP)—"Katie saved our lives twice."

"If she hadn't aroused us, we would've died in bed. Then we passed out, and we would've died there on the floor if it hadn't been for her."

Katie is a dachshund—and a brave one. She won a medal and a citation for distinguished dog heroism Thursday for her courage the night she saved her owners, Capt. and Mrs. Victor H. Vogel, from carbon monoxide poisoning.

A faulty flue on a new furnace sent fumes into the home where the U.S. public health officer and his wife were asleep last Dec. 13. Katie somehow knew the odorless gas was filling the house.

"We had her in a bedroom near ours because she had a new litter of eight puppies," said Capt. Vogel. "In the night she started making such a disturbance she woke us up and my wife went to see what was wrong."

"My wife said she felt sick. I

Ike Creates Scarcity Of School Typewriters

NEWPORT, R. I. (AP)—Depending on City Manager Irving H. Beck's luck on the phone, things could become a little confused in the press room of the summer White House next week.

It seems that with the re-opening of classes, the Newport School Department wants its busy typewriters back.

Beck began making long-distance telephone calls trying to find someone who could loan the city 20 machines.

Formosa Rejects Order Extending Territorial Water

BULLETIN

TAIPEI (AP)—The Chinese Nationalists said today the Communist blockade of Quemoy is tightening and they soon may need help to keep their supply lines open.

Rear Adm. Liu Hsiang-tu, chief Nationalist military spokesman, refused to tell newsmen whether U. S. warships might be asked to escort supply convoys to the islands just off the Communist mainland. There have been persistent rumors that ships of the U. S. 7th Fleet would soon start escort duty to the offshore islands. Dispatch of U. S. vessels to guard Quemoy-bound convoys would send the ships across Red China's new 12-mile sea limit. The Peiping government has indicated it would regard such action an invasion of its territory.

By ROBERT TUCKMAN

TAIPEI (AP)—Nationalist China today rejected Peiping's unilateral extension of its territorial water to 12 miles, asserting Chiang Kai-shek's regime is the only government that lawfully can speak for China.

Communist shelling of the Nationalist offshore islands, meanwhile, dwindled to nearly nothing.

Most attention in Taipei centered on Peiping's declaration

Five Persons Injured In Pittsburgh Blast

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Five persons injured in a $75,000 gas explosion—fire at the Pittsburgh Electrical Insulation Co. are listed in good condition in St. Francis General Hospital.

The blast occurred Thursday. The injured were working in an assembly room.

The explosion occurred in a room where several gas ovens were maintained to bake insulation materials.

By WARREN ROGERS JR.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Red China was faced today with the prospect of having its mainland bases blasted by U.S. bombers if it starts a war in the Formosa Strait.

If things came to that pass, what Red China might start as a limited brush fire war could ignite a raging combat threatening to engulf the whole world—conceivably even a universally dreaded all-out atomic conflict.

This tough new U.S. attitude toward Red China's militarism was officially disclosed at Newport, R.I., Thursday by a top U.S. authority.

This official briefed some 70 newsmen at the summer White House after Secretary of State Dulles flew there for a lengthy conference with President Eisenhower on the China crisis.

The briefing expanded on a strongly worded U.S. policy statement authorized by Eisenhower and read to reporters by Dulles. The combination provided the strongest U.S. warning yet to Red China not to carry out its threat of attack against Nationalist-held islands in the Formosa Strait.

The statement said: 1. Eisenhower would order "timely and effective" action if he decided any Red Chinese attack on the offshore islands threatened Formosa, the Nationalist headquarters which the United States is pledged by treaty to defend.

2. Eisenhower has reached no such decision yet, but would not hesitate to make it if circumstances warranted.

3. Any Red Chinese extension of its territory by force endangers the whole free world, and "acquiescence therein would threaten peace everywhere."

4. Despite Red China's threats and military buildup, it is not yet certain the Communists will attack, nor is it apparent that the Nationalists would need U.S. military help to throw back any Communist attackers.

The statement called on Red China once more to renounce the use of force except in self-defense.

"The United States intends to follow that course, so far as it is concerned," the statement said, "unless and until the Chinese Communists, by their acts, leave us no choice but to react in defense of the principles to which all peace-loving governments are dedicated."

Eberharter Reported Very Much Improved

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Herman Eberharter (D-Pa.), who suffered a heart attack Wednesday night, was reported improved early today at Arlington Hospital in nearby Arlington, Va.

His son, Herman Eberharter Jr., a Marine Corps Second Lieutenant, said Thursday night that physicians told him the congressman's heart had been found to be "very strong." Early today, the hospital said there had been no change from this report.

Oklahoma Man Is New Head Of American Legion

CHICAGO (AP)—The American Legion ended its 40th annual convention Thursday, electing Preston Moore of Stillwater, Okla., its new national commander and affirming its traditional condemnation of communism.

The exodus of thousands of legionnaires left Chicago's Loop with the comparative quiet of everyday business. Hours-long parades, antics of delegates and whoops, sirens and bells had lent a carnival atmosphere to the city the last 10 days.

Moore, 38, a lawyer and World War II Army Air Force veteran, was elected by a margin of nearly 5-1 to head the legion, which now claims 2,700,000 members.

Before the election, the delegates whipped through a host of resolutions.

Difficult Task for Show Judges

Gail Hamilton, at right. Judging this year's show are Mrs. H. R. Schauberg and Mrs. Wayne Fobes, Albion; Mrs. John Ford, Mrs. Edward Walsh, Mrs. William Schildmacher, and Mrs. John Zink, Erie. Co-sponsored by the Woman's Club and Warren Garden Club, the exhibit remains open to the public until 9:00 this evening, with no admission charge.

Gasoline Bomb Hurlled Into Home By Rioters in London

LONDON (AP)—Race rioters hurled gasoline bombs into a Negro's house Thursday night, then besieged two policemen who dashed in to put out the blaze.

The house in Paddington, an area adjoining London's racial storm center of Notting Hill, had been bombarded with milk bottles and garbage earlier in the day.

Hoffa Postpones Effort to Dissolve Monitorship Board

WASHINGTON (AP)—Teamsters chief James R. Hoffa has postponed a decision on whether to call a union convention which could free his union from a court-appointed monitoring board.

Objections to the plan by the monitors themselves led Hoffa Thursday to announce a Sept. 16 meeting of the union's International Executive Board and the monitors to discuss the proposed convention.

Under terms of the court order by U. S. Dist. Judge F. Dickinson Letts, which set up the monitoring board, the union can get the monitorship dissolved by holding a convention any time after next January and electing officers again. The election would be supervised by the monitors.

Letts set up the monitor arrangement as part of a compromise settlement of a lawsuit challenging Hoffa's right to become Teamsters president last year.

No observer doubted that Hoffa could win re-election at a special convention. Reported, his plan is to call a convention in February, get himself re-elected, and then ask the court to end the job of the monitors.

DeGaulle Appeals For Adoption of His Constitution

PARIS (AP)—Premier de Gaulle appealed to the French people Thursday night to adopt his proposed constitution and restore France to her place in the sun.

While Communist hecklers booed and tried to smash through protecting police lines in the historic Place de la Republique, the Premier outlined his basic law for the projected Fifth French Republic to an estimated 100,000 persons.

Most of those nearest the rostrum, where De Gaulle stood surrounded by his ministers, were admitted to the square by invitation only in a move to keep the Reds and other known De Gaulle foes in the background.

The World War II hero called on the French to vote yes in the Sept. 28 referendum in France and the overseas territories which will accept or reject the constitution. He warned that if the vote was no, France would become "out of date and disoriented."

Clearfield Hit-and-Run Driver Pleads Guilty

CLEARFIELD, Pa. (AP)—George D. Powell, 22, of Fairmont, W.Va., faces court action on charges of hit-and-run driving involving the death of a Clearfield County construction worker.

Powell pleaded guilty Thursday at a hearing. State police said Powell's auto struck Andrew J. Brink, 52, of McGees Mills, R.D. Brink was found Tuesday lying on Route 219 between Mahaffey and McGees Mills.

Officers have not determined whether Brink already was dead before being struck.

RULE AGAINST MIXING IN NORFOLK AND ALEXANDRIA ISSUED IN FEDERAL COURT

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Court actions in Virginia and a group of white high school students on strike in Arkansas held attention today on the South's integration scene.

Federal judges in Virginia ruled against school integration—at least for the moment—in cases at Norfolk and Alexandria Thursday. One judge, though, made it plain his ruling is subject to change after the Supreme Court acts on the Little Rock case now pending before it.

A group of about 50 white boys milled around the high school at Van Buren, Ark., Thursday for the announced purpose of keeping Negroes out of the classrooms. Their strike—that's what they called it in a telegram to Gov. Orval E. Faubus asking his help—produced mixed results.

The youths had hoped to bar all 13 Negroes who attended school briefly Wednesday. But two Negro girls attended class Thursday and left the campus without incident aboard a school bus with white students.

Wednesday night about 20 teenage students returned to the campus and burned a Negro in effigy from the school flagpole.

The group seemed to be out for a lark.

While the effigy burning was going on, about 45 persons attended a meeting of parents to discuss their sons' strike. They seemed in sympathy with the stand taken by the youngsters. One woman said, "The kids took the first step today. Now it is up to us."

One of the leaders of the student strikers said 100 of them would be at the school today "and every other day for six days until the Negroes are removed. At the end of those six days, if the Negroes are not out, then we will put them out for good."

Faubus said he would investigate the situation at Van Buren.

Little Rock's Central High School, scene of violence last year, won't open until Sept. 15—after the Supreme Court meets to hear the Little Rock school board's plea for a 2½-year delay in integration.

Schools in the Arkansas cities of Fayetteville, Bentonville, Charleston and Hoxie proceeded with integration without incident.

And at schools in Great Mills, Md., Hopkinsville, Ky., and Winston-Salem, N. C., racial barriers went down and there were no reports of trouble.

At Alexandria, Va., Federal Dist. Judge Albert J. Bryan authorized Arlington County to open its schools Monday on a segregated basis. But he emphasized that his order does not nullify the right of 30 Negro pupils to transfer to white schools.

Area Business Rises To High Level for Year

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The University of Pittsburgh's Bureau of Business Research reports district business rose to its highest level of 1958 last week.

Pinup Favorite At South Pole Is Miss Massachusetts

LITTLE AMERICA, Antarctica (AP)—The men down here have a fresh set of pinups. And their favorite is Miss Massachusetts.

After heated electioneering in 67 below zero weather, they picked Patricia Nordling of Lexington, Mass., as Miss Little America of 1958.

Miss Nordling, 20, 5 feet 6, 132 pounds, 36-25½-36, gets a silver penguin trophy in ceremonies today at Atlantic City, N.J., where she is competing for the Miss American title to be awarded Saturday night. The men chipped into a collection to buy the statuette.

It was a close race. At the end of the final voting Miss Nordling, a blue-eyed brunette, was tied with Patricia Eaves, 18, 5 feet 6, 120 pounds, 36-24-36, a hazel-eyed blonde from Cookeville, Tenn. Miss Nordling won the runoff.

In all, 109 men spending the icy winter in the antarctic as part of the International Geophysical Year participated in the voting—82 Navy personnel, 23 U.S. IGY observers and four foreign scientists, from Russia, France, Argentina and Australia.

They made their selections from Associated Press pictures of the various state winners, transmitted to the antarctic by Paul P. Blum, operator of amateur radio station W2KCR in North Syracuse, N.Y.

Other finalists were Mary Elizabeth Morin, 18, Manchester, N.H.; Gene Lenoir Wilson, 18, Charleston, S.C.; and Donna Juanita Riggs, 20, Phoenix, Ariz.

First Check for Sewage Treatment Plant Presented to Authority

Water Company Reports A Surprise Increase Of H2O Consumption Despite Bills

Borough Manager George Geraci this week presented to Warren Sanitary Authority President Robert Kopf (at left) a check for $40,095.

The sum represented the first payment by Warren Borough to the five-member Sanitary Authority which agreed to assume responsibility for construction of a new sewage treatment system.

The financing of an adequate sewage treatment operation as necessitated by the state has become a financial fact to every Warren family paying for water. Quarterly bills went up 105 per cent last December and from that extra amount the borough is paying off its indebtedness.

On Nov. 22, 1957, the Sanitary Authority signed an agreement with the bonding firm of Singer, Deane & Scribner for $1,125,000 with which to underwrite costs of the new sewage treatment plant.

It was agreed at that time that Warren Borough would pay $40,095 to the Sanitary Authority each March 1 and September 1 until bonds are retired in 1997. The payment this week was the first of 80.

First Flow: December Actual construction of the treatment plant and appurtenances is moving ahead rapidly. Sixty per cent completed is the actual plant itself, located on the South Side adjacent to Thomas Flexible Coupling and the old brewery (and former circus) grounds. Pump houses, digesters and other tanks are already installed.

Elsewhere in town, pump stations on Pine and Clark streets are almost completed and work is continuing rapidly on the 17 diversion manholes. Milano Construction Co. has completed the Conewango Creek pipe crossing and one Allegheny River crossing from Pine street station. Biggest headache yet to come is the tricky crossing of Allegheny River from Clark street.

However, work is continuing at a fast pace because the first sewage must flow through the pipes by the end of the year if Warren is to be eligible for state reimbursement. Sewage will be run through briefly, then be diverted back to the river a short time later. Finishing touches will not be completed until next summer.

But in order to be one of the communities eligible to receive a state reimbursement, sewage must be flowing by year end. Corry, through a fluke, lost about $9,000 in state aid for its plant by failure to apply.

Water Use Is Up Contrary to all expectations, Warren Water Company manager Daniel Troxell reports that water consumption is on the upgrade, despite the 105 per cent increase in bills. It had been expected that consumption would decrease but Mr. Troxell reports that it is up four or five per cent, unaccountably.

He admits there are not enough new customers to warrant the raise, despite sizeable increases to two industrial firms. During July of 1958, some 64,000,000 gallons were pumped, a somewhat surprising figure in view of the heavy rains, according to Troxell. But recent totals show that anywhere from one-half to one million more gallons are being pumped per month. (Winter pumping might be about 53,000,000 gallons, whereas summer pumping might push 64,000,000 through the mains).

The Water Company manager did note, however, that the office had received "a lot of complaints" about the bill increases and that many a patron had informed the company that slight faucet leaks had been repaired for the first time in years.

Still A Saving However, the borough is still saving money by beginning to collect payments before the sewage system is completed. By rushing the job, Warren should be eligible for state reimbursement of perhaps two per cent by the end of the year. By propitious timing, the borough was also able to acquire about the last $250,000 federal aid sewer grant in the country.

Also, by beginning payments immediately, Borough Engineer Robert DeBell estimated that borough residents would save themselves about $80,000 over the long haul because $144,000 less would have to be borrowed, with that much less debt service until 1997.

If the state had been forced to order Warren to build its plant (which it would have done by now), none of these extra financial dividends would have been available to patrons.

SHORT COUNCIL SESSION EXPECTED
An extremely brief Borough Council session is on tap for Monday night unless some last minute additions pad the present agenda. City solons will be asked to pass judgment on a slight change in use of gas tax refund money (for sewer line placement instead of the dropped Second Avenue widening project), formal approval of a new policeman and a minor adjustment in the Civil Service Code dealing with length of service before advancement in the fire department.

Letters to Editor

TO RESIDENTS OF COBHAM PARK ROAD

Probably all of you read the article in the Wednesday issue of this paper. It gave reference to 'defiant land owners concerning a by-pass for a temporary bridge'. We would like you to know that we are one of the land owners. However, defiant, we are not. Disgusted would be a better adjective and more factual. Please let us explain what the previous article did not. About 2 years ago, the State Highway Dept. wanted to dredge under the bridge, which is now being replaced. This, of course, was to help eliminate floods. At that time, the state asked our permission to go through our property with a shovel, in order to get to the creek more easily. Near the creek bank, we had 25 Colorado blue spruce trees planted. We informed the foreman, about the trees, and he said they wouldn't be near the trees. (actually they had 80 feet, to get on our property and over the bank, which was more than ample space). We readily gave our permission. The next day, they drove the shovel on to our property, and in a careless manner drove over and destroyed six of the trees. We immediately spoke to the foreman and the superintendent about it. They apologized and assured us that they would either replace the trees or give us the money to buy new ones. Several days passed and we approached the foreman again. He reassured us of their intentions, and even wrote down the type of the trees and the age, which was five years. Weeks passed and we received neither money or trees. We contacted the superintendent several times, and informed him then, that there might be another time when they would want permission to go through our property. We further stated, that unless the trees were replaced, they would never get our consent again. He still maintained we'd get the trees. Well, we never got the trees. And the time has come once again when they have asked for our permission for a right of way for the by-pass in question. We simply told Mr. Walker, if he is willing to replace the six trees, we would be more than willing to consent to the right of way. He informed us, that was a different administration, and he would not do it. At the same time—it's the same department, the same trees are in question, and our attitude remains the same. We will not give our consent until the trees are replaced. The value of the trees is less important than the principle involved, and as land owners we intend to maintain our rights. To replace the trees, would cost the state little or nothing, compared to the inconvenience of the residents above the bridge and the school bus. The party who is asking for a "park" is of no concern to us, all we want is what is rightfully ours, and no more.

Sincerely,
Mr. and Mrs. E. Lee Dunham

Expert On China Affairs Views The War Possibilities

EDITOR'S NOTE—James D. White, writer of the following dispatch, is an old China hand. He attended school in Peiping, joined The Associated Press there in 1936 and remained in China until 1942. After the war he returned to China for a period in 1948 and 1949 and is now assigned to the AP staff in San Francisco.

By JAMES D. WHITE
SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The Soviet Union's tough expression of support for Red China's threat to conquer the offshore islands of Quemoy and Matsu may mean that China, with Soviet backing, is prepared to risk a regional war in the Far East.

Pravda warned this week that the Soviet Union will go to the aid of Red China if there is a clash over the islands, recalled "unbreakable bonds of fraternal friendship and cooperation," and promised China "the necessary moral and material help."

This no doubt refers to the Chinese-Soviet treaty of 1950, a commitment the Soviets are bound to fulfill if they choose to interpret any clash as American aggression. The Soviet Union cannot afford openly to let a Communist ally down.

The risk of a regional war then is involved, especially if the U.S. 7th Fleet goes into action. As to why the Chinese and the Soviets chose this particular time to launch such an adventure, there are numerous reasons having to do with a broad synchronization of Communist offensives in the Middle East and the Far East.

The key reason may be communist belief that a phase of expansion now might be reasonably safe, whereas it would not be safe later on, when the United States has developed an intercontinental ballistic missile.

Since the earliest date speculated for American development of such a weapon appears to be no sooner than 1960, the Communists may think they have more than a year in which to flex their muscles and possibly achieve all or part of a major ambition. It is to dislodge American power from bases abroad—the bases in Europe, North Africa and the Middle East, and along the western Pacific perimeter stretching down from Japan through Okinawa, Formosa and the Philippines.

If Red China somehow can get Formosa—even by next summer—the political repercussions in Japan, the Philippines and Southeast Asia would offer a fruitful field for exploitation. Already Filipino officials are discussing publicly a policy of not getting involved in any scrap over Quemoy unless the Philippines are directly menaced.

State Operated Camping Sites Proving Popular

HARRISBURG (AP) — Trailer and tent camping at state owned and operated sites caught on in a big way this summer in Pennsylvania.

The Forests and Waters Department today reported an increase for the first seven months of the year of 54,000 such excursions over the same period in 1957.

"And the fact remains that by the end of the real camping season in late October, we should boost the attendance to a real sound figure," said Conrad Lickie, assistant chief of the department's Forest Recreation Division.

But, Lickie said, things were not as good up to the end of July in Pennsylvania's 49 state parks.

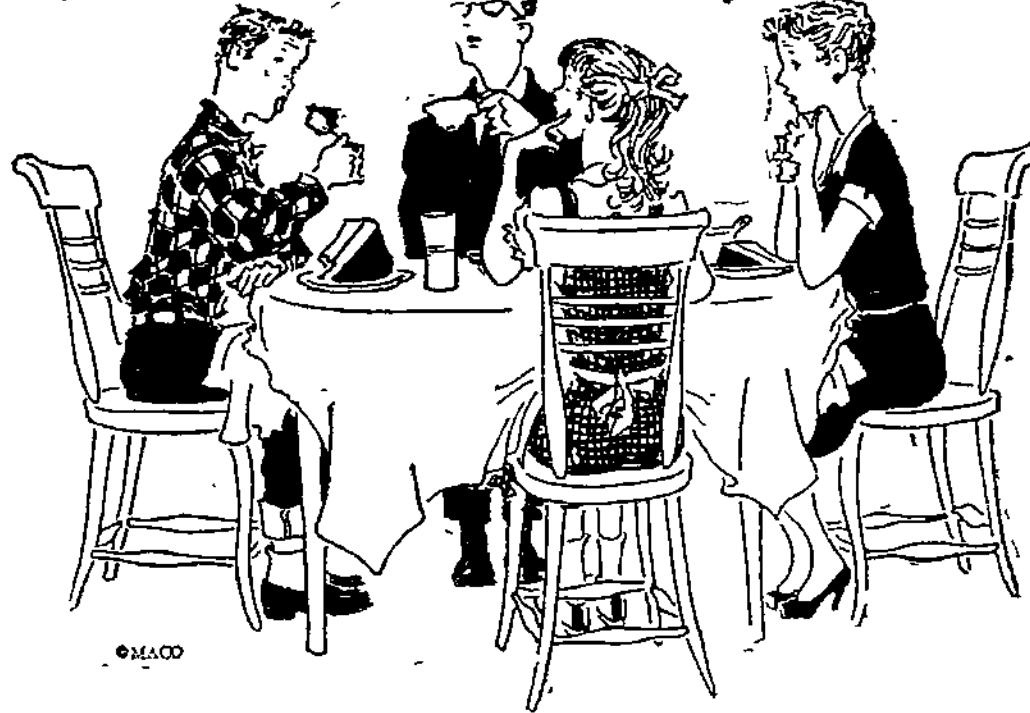

"During the January to July period in 1957, we had a total attendance of 7,317,000 at 45 state parks and during the current period we had a drop of 85,500 to a total attendance of 7,230,000," he said.

"However, we can blame most of the drop on wet weather and we have high hopes of beating the complete total up to the end of October by tabulating August, September and October attendance at the parks," he added.

The total attendance last year between January and late October was 11,576,000 for the 45 state parks then in use. Since that time four new parks have been added.

These figures, he said, do not include attendance at five state parks operated under the supervision of park commissions, not the department.

Russell Firemen And Auxiliary Make Plans

RUSSELL — Elmer Roberts presided at the regular meeting of Russell Volunteer Fire Department, when it was voted to send the fire truck to parades, etc., at the discretion of the fire chief; and plans were discussed for a combined meeting of firemen and Auxiliary.

Chief John Stanton reported no fire calls received in the past month; seven ambulance calls were reported; booklets containing by-laws were distributed; Fritz Urbanski was voted into membership.

To conclude, lunch was served by Bill Martin and Joe Tarr.

Auxiliary members held their regular meeting at the home of Mrs. Elmer Roberts, with a wiener roast following the business session conducted by the hostess. A report was given on the county firemen's meeting and plans were made for a tureen dinner at the next meeting.

News of Hollywood

By JAMES BACON

AP Motion Picture Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Other

young actresses may have grabbed more front-page publicity than Dolores Hart but few can match her career success in the last 18 months.

For Dolores is a nice girl in the tradition of Ann Blyth, another who always put moral principles above career.

Just 18 months ago, Dolores was a freshman at Marymount College playing "Joan of Lorraine" in a production given by the Loyola

University dramatic group.

Then a friend sent her picture to Paul Nathan, associate of star-maker Hal Wallis. Nathan arranged a reading test with Wallis, who signed her the next day.

Since then she has played Elvis

Presley's sweetheart in a couple of movies and appeared with Anna Magnani and Anthony Quinn in

"Wild Is the Wind."

Now, in her first loanout to

Dore Scharf, she becomes a star in "Miss Lonelyhearts," her name being above the title along with

Montgomery Clift's. That picture

just wound up the other day and

Dolores is en route to New York for another starring part in what could be a Broadway stage hit,

"The Pleasure of His Company."

I asked Dolores how she has been able to keep her feet on the ground with all this success thrown at her in such a short time.

"I guess I just haven't had time to be swell-headed or cynical," she answered. "I never had to pound the pavements or go through any of the other disappointments that so many of the other girls in town have. I don't feel that I'm a different person from what I was 18 months ago

— even though a lot has happened.

"I know I didn't do it all myself, that a lot of people helped me."

She still goes to church during the week, just as she did before she became famous. She doesn't mind being known as a good girl although the more colorful actrresses may get more publicity.

"I'm not long out of the convent," she says, "and I have too many friends among the nuns who watch my career. I could never do anything that would embarrass them."

Boyle's Comment

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—The featured, elderly man drew back as if he had received a blow in the face.

"What do I think of rock 'n' roll?" he said. "Why, it's nothing but pure savagery—but the savages did it better. They used it to work themselves up to enjoy orgies or commit murders."

"Beethoven used themes as simple as rock 'n' roll themes, but he developed them. They grew. Rock 'n' roll has practically no melodic value. It is simply a monotonous, savage beat, repeated over and over."

And Dr. Sigmund Spaeth leaned back, slightly upset. He has been a top cheerleader for all kinds of music for 50 years. His 30 books range from "Great Symphonies" to "How to Play the Harmonica." But he draws the line at rock 'n' roll.

"There are limits to human tolerance," he observed. At 73, Dr. Spaeth, who can play 10 instruments himself, is still one of America's most active drum-beaters for the appreciation of music. The noted "tune detective" delivers 50 lectures a year, travels 50,000 miles, edits "Music Journal," writes a weekly syndicated music column, serves as panelist on a radio show.

He believes the nation is in the midst of a spreading musical boom period.

"There are more people playing some kind of musical instrument now than at any other time in our history," he said.

"We've got over the silly idea that if you want to play at all you have to play well. The old-fashioned teachers used to ruin music for many of their pupils by making it a form of drudgery. They treated every student as a potential concert performer."

"That was nonsense. We need dub musicians as well as pros. Only a few have the talent to become pros."

Throughout his long career Dr. Spaeth, who began playing the piano at 5, has preached the theory that music is fun.

"If it isn't fun," he demanded, "what else can it be? People I Loved You."

should make music for their own satisfaction, and listen to it for their own satisfaction—not merely because someone informs them it is cultural.

"Parents often ask me when they should start their children listening to good music. I tell them, 'The day a child is born. You can't start much sooner.'"

Of the tens of thousands of musical compositions Dr. Spaeth has studied, what are his own favorites?

"It's a difficult question," he said. "But I suppose to me the greatest piece of music is Brahms' Third Symphony. I put him above Beethoven, Bach and Wagner."

"My favorite popular songs—I'll have to give three—are George Gershwin's 'The Man I Love,' Jerome Kern's 'All the Things You Are,' and Dick Rodgers' 'If

SIGHT - SAVING MONTH
"Half of all Blindness is Needless and Preventable" is the theme for Sight-Saving Month, a public education campaign sponsored by one of the country's oldest national health agencies, the National Society for the Prevention of Blindness.
Needless loss of sight can be attributed to apathy, neglect and a widespread lack of knowledge of the basic facts of proper eye care, according to the Society. In industry, where needless loss of sight is particularly high, both management and labor have made strides in recent years but there is still much that can be done to reduce the toll taken by industrial eye accidents.
According to James O'Neil, director of industrial services for the Society, there is one proved way to eliminate needless eye injuries in industry as well as in school chemistry labs and shops: 100 per cent use of safety eyewear on an area-wide basis.
The use of safety eyewear, frequent eye examinations and knowledge of the basic symptoms of sight-stealing diseases and conditions—these are the keys to reducing needless blindness, according to the Society.
The National Society for the Prevention of Blindness has prepared a helpful folder on eye health which may be obtained by writing to Prevention of Blindness, Box 426, New York 19, N. Y.
Just a last-minute reminder that everyone is cordially urged to visit the annual Fall Flower Show at the Woman's Club, which opened this afternoon and continues through nine tonight. Nice part about the invitation is that there is no admission charge—and hospitality is the keynote!
And the Youngsville Community Fair continues through tonight and Saturday, with excellent programs arranged for the concluding days!

Marlow Looks At TODAY'S NEWS

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP)—It is still deliberately unclear — after statements by President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles — what this country will do if the Red Chinese attack the Nationalist-held islands near the China mainland.
They're still doing what they've been doing: keeping the Chinese Communists guessing. What they've said could be construed as ominous. Actually, neither man has said anything committing this country to a course of action.
Both men will have to consider carefully — before throwing the United States into war with Red China for the offshore islands of Quemoy and Matsu and the nearby islets — what support they'd get at home and from American allies abroad.
Dulles, after talking with Eisenhower at Newport, R.I., issued Thursday a 900-word statement about this country's reaction to any Red attack on the islands held by Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalists.
But examination of this statement shows Dulles stopped a long way short of any flat expression of American intentions. He said in part, and this is the most pertinent part: "... The President has not yet made any finding ... that the employment of the armed forces of the United States is required or appropriate in insuring the defense of Formosa."
That can be accurately translated into meaning Eisenhower as of now doesn't think Formosa, Chiang's stronghold 100 miles off the China coast, is in any danger of Red attack.
Under this country's Senate-approved treaty with Chiang, the United States has to defend Formosa if it is attacked. Nowhere in the treaty or anywhere else, is this country pledged to defend Chiang's islands near the China coast.
A resolution approved by both houses of Congress in 1955 says Eisenhower can use his own judgment about fighting for such outside-Formosa areas as the offshore islands. But it said explicitly he could use force to defend Formosa.
There was no clear indication in Dulles' statement of what Eisenhower would do if the Reds attack the islands. On that subject Dulles said: "The President would not, however, hesitate to make such a finding (use of American armed forces) if he judged that the circumstances made this necessary" — for Eisenhower to decide the offshore islands aren't important enough to risk war for.
But, as if to give the Reds a nudge that this country thinks those offshore islands have become more important to Formosa's defense than ever before, Dulles went on: "We have recognized that the securing and protecting of Quemoy and Matsu have increasingly become related to the defense of Formosa. (Note: This doesn't say they're essential to the defense of Formosa.)"
"This is indeed also recognized by the Chinese Communists. Military dispositions have been made by the United States so that a presidential determination, if made, would be followed by action both timely and effective."
This phrase — "presidential determination, if made" — means that so far as it wants the world to know the administration hasn't yet made up its mind.
But Dulles' statement on the increasing importance of Quemoy and Matsu is not new. It's simply a repetition of what Eisenhower told a news conference last week. The President said:
Those islands are interlocked with Formosa as never before, with one third of Chiang's forces on them.
This itself doesn't necessarily mean the islands themselves are increasingly important to Formosa's defense. It could mean they're increasingly important only because Chiang has so many of his troops there that, if they were lost, his ability to defend Formosa later would be greatly weakened.
By putting so many men on the islands, deliberately or not, Chiang therefore has put increased pressure on the United States to defend them.

Here and There

The increasingly popular Warren Novelty Band scored two big hits on their Fair engagements this past weekend. On Saturday evening the boys in their bright red shirts were in concert at the Wattsburg Fair. The crowds were most appreciative and the band will return next year. Other television acts included Eric Badicton, a poly; Miss Frances at the Hammond; Novelle's Poodle Symphony; Maxine and Millie, musical comedy; and Arnold Archer and Company. Mr. Archer, a Walt Disney aide joined the band for several numbers and complimented the boys on their music. He is a well known trumpet stylist and vocal mimic. A cold, wet Labor Day failed to dampen the crowds for the largest fair in Western Pennsylvania at Stoneboro. Again Warren's musical ambassadors were well received and shared the spotlight with the Great Galasso, one finger stand; Les Marcos, high act; the Sharps, barbershop quartet; Nelson's Educated Pigs; and again the Poodle Symphony. Mr. Galasso told the Warrenites he was with the Ringling show on its last visit to Warren, and Mr. Nelson's cousin has played this town many times with Mills Bros. Circus. The Poodle Symphony drove to Syracuse for the State Fair after their appearance Monday. Any member of the band may be contacted for store openings, reunions, picnics, or outings. Musicians are Maurice Stillwell, Jos. and John Diamond, Jim Dibble, Pete Pepke, Jerry McCune, Mert Reynolds, Jos. Conti, Robert Still, and Robert Benson.
It's not too early to start thinking about fall foliage tours and planning your trip to some of the most colorful forests in the east. To help you in your planning the Pennsylvania Department of Commerce has just released a brochure on Flaming Foliage Tours in the Keystone State. A total of nine areas of the Commonwealth are mapped for the best routes to see the fall spectacle. The brochure can be obtained upon request to the Department of Commerce, Harrisburg 1, Pennsylvania. Color will soon be bursting out all over Penn's Woods, featuring some of the most varied hardwoods in the East. The big display won't be ready until the beginning of October in most areas and that's when the traditional autumn leaf festivals take place in three areas of the State. Clarion is first with its date of October 4. Somerset will hold its festival the second week of October and the State Flaming Foliage Festival at Renovo will be held on October 11 and 12. The Pennsylvania Foliage tour booklet lists the numbered routes in the different areas of the state and its center spread shows an outline map of the Commonwealth with the location of the suggested area. More than half of Pennsylvania's area is forest land and its Northern Tier has some of the most unspoiled forests in the East.
It was fifty years ago today (Saturday, Sept. 5, 1908) The Evening Times made the following announcement: "Monday being Labor Day, the Times will issue no paper, as it is the only daily in town having the union label and its employees desire to enjoy the holiday. The clothing, dry goods, shoe, grocery and other stores will be open until noon, and will be closed during the afternoon and evening. The schools will enjoy short vacations. With good weather a record breaking crowd will be in attendance and the celebration will be a hummer."
And here's another paragraph from the column of interest to present-day readers: "In all probabilities the Printz Bros., well known clothing dealers, will be listed among Oil City merchants next spring. The Oil City Blizzard says that

A 51-year-old, globe-trotting Roman Catholic priest is preparing young people in at least 20 countries for marriage by means of a correspondence course.
The Rev. Andre Guay, a priest who was born in Ville Marie, Que., oversees the lessons from his post as director of the University of Ottawa's Catholic Center.
The course consists of 15 lessons prepared with the help of specialists in law, psychology, biology and medicine. It lasts about six months and is open to couples of all faiths.
Lesson titles include "Love and Happiness," "Courtship and Engagements," "Civil Laws Concerning Marriage," and "Anatomy and Physiology." Couples preparing for marriage must study together.
Father Guay says the aim of the course is "encouraging young people to discuss problems together — a habit they will bring into marriage."
The students write tests on each lesson and mail them to course centers for marking. The course center for the United States and Canada is the Ottawa Catholic Center, a rambling stucco building near the university.
Headquarters have been set up in other countries, including Argentina, Basutoland, Belgium, Bolivia, Colombia, Cuba, Spain, France, Holland, Italy, Lebanon, Mexico, New Zealand, Uruguay and Venezuela.

Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — What makes today's investor tick has a lot of Wall Streeters puzzled.
Stock prices are so high in relation to dividends that the yields of many stocks are below the returns on some top rated bonds.
Still the public goes on buying stocks and ignoring or selling bonds. New money pours into the market despite the astonishingly high ratio of prices to earnings.
This year has seen marked rise in the birth rate of mutual funds. The new ones have sold millions of shares for millions of dollars. And Wall Street asks: is a period of high stock prices the time to launch a mutual fund? The launchers answer yes. The argument is that stock prices at near record highs put a premium on expert portfolio management and selectivity.
Wall Street has had two favorite explanations for the gyrations in stocks and bonds.
First, there has been such a buildup in idle funds—such as the ever-growing pension funds and the insurance company reserves—that the money has to go to work somewhere.
Second, the public is sold on coming inflation—the belief that everything is going to go up in price, including stocks, and that a fixed income investment will provide steadily declining purchasing power.
Those who invest in mutual funds seem to be bearing out this view, many-in that field point out.
About 80 per cent of investments in mutual funds has been in those stressing common stocks. The balanced funds—those that offset the more flighty common stocks with sizable holdings of the more steady going bonds and preferred stocks—have 20 per cent of the market.
Mutual salesmen say this proves the public's mood today is to hold common stocks it thinks will grow in value even if income yields are skimpy rather than to buy an investment that offers an assured income.
Fascinating Wall Street even more than the postwar growth of the mutuals is the way the public is buying the inevitability of continuing inflation.
"A general expectation of inflation can be a great accelerator of inflation," the Guaranty Trust Co. of New York warns today in its September survey.
"When the people lose faith in the future value of their money and refuse to hold it, the velocity of circulation can increase almost without limit, and this rise in velocity is, for all practical purposes, equivalent to an expansion of the money supply itself."

Nostalgia—Woman Trouble—Art—Pocketbook Blues—Floral Diplomacy

By DOUGLAS LARSEN AND JERRY BENNETT
NEA Staff Correspondents
WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Practically all the big shots in Washington are people from some place else, who still subscribe to and avidly read their home-town papers.
Just take Secretary Robert B. Anderson, who heads the U.S. Treasury where they spend a billion and a half dollars every five days. He's still a small-town boy from Vernon, Tex.
The other day the Vernon Record printed pictures of children who would be entering schools this September. The secretary read every name carefully. He didn't recognize any of them.
For while Mr. Anderson has been in the east, a lot of new families have moved in and Vernon has grown up from a sleepy little Texas town to a thriving community of 13,000.
The secretary is pleased at the progress. But the fact that he no longer knows everybody who lives in his old home gave the former small-town boy a touch of sadness.
THE DAY IKE'S departure for Newport was in doubt because of a threatening hurricane. A White House wag remarked: "Every time he goes up there he seems to have woman trouble. Last year a strange woman rushed up and kissed him. Now it's 'Daisy' that's giving him trouble."
GREEK ARTIST Demetrios J. Kokotis is currently fuming at what he charges is the lack of freedom of artistic expression in this town.
He got permission to set up an exhibit of his paintings of President Eisenhower, Richard Nixon, Douglas MacArthur and other famous personages in the lobby of the Sheraton-Park Hotel. Apparently thinking that his array of male portraits needed more vitality, he decided to place some of his nudes in the exhibit.
The hotel, however, balked at this. An assistant manager explained that it wasn't dignified to have undraped female forms displayed with the country's leaders.
IT'S A SAFE BET that the Indonesian government is having serious financial difficulties. In past years the summer celebration of Indonesian Independence Day has been the biggest, most lavish blow-out in town.
But for the past two years there hasn't been a party, with the simple explanation by Ambassador, Notowidigdo that his government at home couldn't afford it.
VICTOR STEIN, a prominent San Francisco florist, is said to be coming to town soon with a new concept of how America and Russia should do business. Stein is head of Interflora, a world-wide organization of florists who accept telegraphic orders for flowers.
Interflora members are meeting here soon and it's said that Stein will recommend that instead of exchanging bitter letters the two countries should swap symbolic flowers.
A bouquet of thorny roses mixed with African violets sent to the Kremlin might mean the U.S. objected to what the Reds were doing in Rhodesia, for example. The Reds would answer with orchids (which have no odor) implying that Uncle Sam should keep his nose out of their affair.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

BRIDGE AXIOM: NEVER BE AMAZED

BY OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

The longer I play bridge the less I refuse to be surprised by anything that happens. South should have passed two no-trump, but he bid three on his stout heart and minimum 16 points.

West opened the five of diamonds. Dummy's nine forced East's ace and a diamond came back. As anyone can see, South has no play for three no-trump. He has lost one diamond and must lose at least three more diamonds and the act of hearts. Now see what did happen!

The four of hearts was played from dummy. East played the seven and South the queen. Now South led his jack of diamonds and West cashed his three diamond tricks.

Three clubs were discarded from dummy and declarer let a heart and a club go. Meanwhile, East found himself in trouble. He wished he had taken his ace of hearts or at least played the seven spot so he could complete a signal with the deuce. Anyway, East's wishes did him no good. He let two clubs go and West made the mistake of leading a club.

Now South cashed his three clubs and East had to let a spade go in order to hang on to the ace of hearts. Now all South had to do was play his king and eight of spades and finesse dummy's jack. All four spades were good and the contract was made.

Atomic Reactors May Draw Fresh Water From Sea

GENEVA (AP) — Atomic reactors are advancing the thirsty world nearer the goal of drawing fresh water from the sea, a prominent American scientist told the atomic-peace conference today.

One new development cuts electrical costs of processing salt water by two-thirds, said Dr. Willard F. Libby of the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission.

Many areas of the world, including the Middle East and the American West, face serious water shortages now or in the near future. This has stimulated intensive research to achieve economical methods of desalting tremendous amounts of sea or brackish waters.

One method of getting rid of the salt uses special plastic membranes and electric current.

A far superior membrane has been produced by exposure of plastic film to X-ray radiation produced by atoms splitting in atomic reactors, Libby reported.

"Use of these new membranes to desalt sea water requires only one-third the electric power of currently available membranes," he said.

Electric power costs are one big item in the desalting process. Thus, this is one step toward reducing costs to the point where thirsty areas can afford to buy water for industrial, agricultural and human use.

Board Director Kenneth Brown moved "all funds in our schools" be audited immediately. Last audit was completed as of June 1957. It was also announced in Erie that in a sudden upsurge, Erie construction during 1958, listed at a disappointing $4,901,537 Thursday, shot upward to near the $9,000,000 mark today. Biggest building permit is Hamot Hospital new wing, $3,200,000.

"Good, reserve three or four rooms," said Mr. Wambach. He and his wife, who was a Zarbo girl from Titusville, have 13 children. They returned to Harrisburg after spending the weekend here. Manager Blair S. Hefkin said.

E. U. B. Members To Learn Stand On Integration

HARRISBURG (AP) — The 850,000 members of the Evangelical United Brethren Church in America and foreign countries next month will learn the organization's latest official stand on integration and nuclear testing.

Those and other subjects will come under lengthy discussion at the 39th annual world conference of the church in Harrisburg Oct. 9 through Oct. 19.

Some 450 delegates from the United States, Canada and four other countries will be on hand to give their views on national and international issues.

Various church committees throughout the world have been studying the issues from the church viewpoints since they were given the assignment at the last world conference four years ago.

"The committees will make their findings known and then the official church body will vote on acceptance or rejection, or in some cases, alteration of the recommended stands," a spokesman said.

Official pronouncements such as those to be made then serve as the official word of the mother church.

"Burner With Brain"

Manufacturers Light and Heat Company kicked off its fall range promotion campaign Thursday evening with a dinner at Penn Laurel Motel for dealers who heard the facts about the "Burner With a Brain."

Max Crosby, Manufacturers Light & Heat district business promotion manager, and Mrs. Ruth Randinelli, home service director, were on hand to describe the burners which eliminate pot watching and boil overs, a big help for "Active Moderns," theme of the sales campaign.

Dealers present were Mark Bevevino of Bevevino's, M. L. Satterlund of Satterlund's, Fred Kieshauser, Stanley Brooks and James Stevenson of Turner's, J. K. Krimmel, Harold Giegerich and Tim Herlihy of Montgomery Wards, A. A. Swanson and Mrs. Pearson of Metzger's, Wayne Painter and Ben Malec of Beckleys, Karl Runquist of Sears.

Congress of Biochemistry Learns of New Discovery

NEW YORK (AP) — Scientists have created a substance from nonliving matter that looks like and may act like the heart stuff of living cells.

Three U.S. scientists reported their laboratory experiments Wednesday at the fourth International Congress of Biochemistry in Vienna, Austria.

The material they created from chemical building blocks appears to be like deoxyribonucleic acid, called simply DNA.

DNA seems to be the control matter of living cells, carrying the hereditary characteristics, or genes.

The Sloan-Kettering Institute here, which sponsored the research said: "Because cancer cells are believed to have an altered abnormal DNA, it is hoped that synthetic DNA-like substances which can interfere with the activity of natural DNA, may have a role in cancer treatment."

DNA is composed of more simple chemical compounds called nucleotides. In solution, nucleotides maintain an equilibrium with DNA, drifting into DNA formation and out again. But the DNA itself is a fleeting, changing thing.

How to segregate the synthetic DNA from the solution was the problem that faced Dr. Aaron Ben-David of Sloan-Kettering and Dr. S. M. Reiser of Columbia University and researcher Herbert Rosenkrantz, also of Sloan-Kettering.

A cellulose material called ecto-ecol has an affinity for DNA, they discovered. By shaking up the nucleotides solution, some synthetic DNA stuck to the ecto-ecol. The DNA-like substance was caught in a transient state when some of the nucleotides moved into DNA formation.

Crowd Jeers Judges As Cornplanters Take 5th

Crowd and Cornplanters alike were disappointed Labor Day evening at Johnstown when Cornplanter Drum and Bugle Corps of local American Legion Post was handed a fifth place award.

Jeers burst from the crowd of 2,000 at the announcement and it was apparently felt that either the Cornplanters or Hilton Crusaders should have topped the parade.

Order of finish was: Milton Keystoneers, first; Hilton Crusaders, second; Dunkirk Cavaliers, third; Verona Cavaliers, fourth; Cornplanters, fifth.

Cornplanter musical director Robert Orndorf was quoted afterwards as saying that in his 18 years experience with corps he had never seen so deserving a unit "take such a robbing."

Cornplanters' final appearance of the year will be in Jamestown Sept. 13 at the annual Fire Prevention Parade.

With the Candidates

REPUBLICAN

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Rep. Richard M. Simpson (R-Pa.), chairman of the Republican Congressional Committee, calls the Democratic Party "the friend of labor bosses."

In a speech delivered at a Republican fund raising dinner Thursday Simpson said:

"I am convinced that as long as the Democrats control Congress they will block any effective proposals to protect the rank and file union member, just as they did this year."

Simpson blamed the Democrats for defeat of labor reform legislation in Congress.

A. F. L. STAND

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Pennsylvania Federation of Labor today is considering a recommendation to give "favorable consideration" to two Republican candidates for state offices.

The AFL Pittsburgh Central Labor Union Thursday night suggested the federation favorably consider John M. Walker, of Pittsburgh, an Allegheny County commissioner who is running for lieutenant governor, and Andrew Gleason, a Johnstown attorney running for secretary of commonwealth.

In other political action Thursday night, the entire slate of Democratic candidates for state offices was endorsed by the Steel City Industrial Union Council.

G.O.P. COMMITTEE BUSY

HARRISBURG (AP) — Legislation requiring a secret ballot in the election of labor union officials was reported under consideration today as a plank in the Republican state platform.

A source close to the Platform Writing Committee, who asked not to be identified, said the labor plank also contained a general statement asking for state laws to protect working men and women from what it describes as union leaders who have betrayed their trust.

The labor plank will be part of a 20-point platform to be presented to the full Republican State Committee at Pittsburgh Saturday. The document is intended to provide basic campaign issues for statewide candidates led by Arthur T. McGonigle for governor.

The tax section is expected to renew Republican opposition to any statewide income or wage tax.

Radio and TV

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP) — For two years, various people have been urging Milton Berle to return to television on a regular basis. For two years, Berle has been saying that an hour a week is too much, that even eight or 10 hour-long shows in a season are too much.

Then, after he convulsed a national audience at the Emmy Awards presentations and appeared in a straight dramatic role on "Kraft Theater" several months ago, something interesting happened. The public began urging him to come back. Thousands of letters poured in, saying in effect, "We want Berle."

So Milton Berle will return to weekly television Oct. 8 with a half-hour show which, he says, has "a no format format." He comes back a far more relaxed man than the comedian who quit television two years ago, vowing never to return.

"Nothing is going to bother me," he says. "All I'm going to do is try to do the best I can. All I care is that the public be pleased."

Except for Berle and Billy May and his orchestra, there are no plans at present for regular performers. Does that mean numerous big name guests?

"Well," says Berle, "I think the guest bit has become a bore to the audiences. They're tired of seeing X pop up on Y's show and then Y pop up on X's. No matter what they do, they look the same. When we have guests, we hope to make them off-beat."

"There's a tremendous amount of talent that has yet to be discovered by a national audience. I want to put a new comedian on the show — and a new singer. There must be another Judy Garland around."

Berle is putting his new show in the hands of a top-flight staff headed by Hal Kantor as producer and chief writer. So great is Berle's faith in his new staff that he'd rather talk about it ("the brightest, best in the country") than himself.

"There was a time I was afraid to put a show of mine in other hands. Now that's no longer so," he says.

He was referred to the family of Mrs. Luce's mother-in-law, Mrs. Wilson Luce, who had moved to Pasadena, Calif., in the 20s. Local misfortune: coastal bonanza.

Rain Dampens Youngsville Fair, But Big Day Dawns

The crowds are expected to surge back to a dried out Youngsville Community Fair today after rainfall last evening kept parade spectators to a minimum.

Draft horse judging, kiddy parade and horse pulling were scheduled this afternoon but the big attraction tonight, outside of the exhibits, will be the frantic Slim Bryant and his Wildcats, live and recording artists of radio station KDKA, Pittsburgh.

They will be the featured attraction in a stage show which begins at 8 p. m. with Jack Dunnigan at the mike.

Heater's Shows will supply the rides tonight and tomorrow when the 27th annual community fair in the "biggest little town" winds up.

A tractor pulling contest is scheduled for 1:30 p. m. Saturday, with championship horse shoe pitching beginning at 2 for some fancy twirlers. Youngsville Band Concert, an Amateur Show and the final Booster Button program will conclude the fair Saturday evening.

Nuclear Power Plants In Caverns Advocated

GENEVA (AP) — Atom scientists were urged today to consider building nuclear power plants in underground caverns to protect the public from radiation loosed in a possible accident.

Two Swiss experts told the atomic-peace conference that subterranean installations would be no more expensive.

Drs. P. de Haller and A. F. Fritzsche said that despite armor, or containment vessel, people living near a nuclear plant risk exposure to radiation in any emergency.

ENTERPRISING BURGLAR

Locks Duke in Bedroom

LONDON (AP) — An enterprising burglar locked the enterprising Duke of Bedford in his bedroom early today.

The Duke, Barnum of British bluebloods, heard the key turn and scrambled for the phone. The burglar, having pocketed a $100 watch, heard the phone and scrambled for freedom.

"It's becoming a bore," said the duke, who was lately host to a nudist convention in his efforts to make his stately country home earn its keep.

"This is the twelfth time we've been burgled — and always we have the same mess of broken glass to clear up," he explained.

The burglary was at the duke's London apartment.

The POWER of FAITH

by Howard Brodie

This is the story of how the faith of a merchant went around the world. At 16 he knelt in a drapery shop and gave his heart to God. It was mid-19th Century England, when men worked 17 hours a day and salesmen were unscrupulous. Yet, this former farm boy wrote, "I would be righteous and holy in business, doing it as for Christ." He sought Christian companionship and prayed after work with another employee. They were joined by others. Soon the youngest apprentice and the boss were interested.

The idea spread to other businesses, countries and continents, refreshing spirits, minds and bodies. Simultaneously the merchant became the best salesman in London, a husband, father, head of his business, a wealthy man and a knight: Sir George Williams, founder of the Y.M.C.A.

Teamster Lawyer Says He Can Explain Loan

WASHINGTON (AP) — Teamsters lawyer George S. Fitzgerald said today he can explain fully his role in a million-dollar union welfare fund loan under fire in the Senate racket hearings.

He expressed resentment that the hearings were adjourned until next Tuesday before he had a chance to reply as a witness to testimony involving him.

The special investigating committee headed by Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark.) heard testimony Thursday about a 1955-56 loan to a Detroit real estate promotion firm which allegedly has repaid none of the debt and not all of the interest due.

Teacher Sues Hospital Claiming Carelessness

CLEARWATER, Fla. (AP) — Miss Jimmie C. Parker, a Largo schoolteacher, filed a $35,000 damage suit in Circuit Court against Morton Plant Hospital and Dr. John D. Hagood.

The suit said Miss Parker entered the hospital for removal of an ingrown toenail, that through negligence and carelessness she was placed in an operating room as Hagood entered to perform surgery in another case, and that the physician thereupon operated on Miss Parker's right breast.

Hagood and hospital authorities declined comment.

Interesting Figures On District Schools

WASHINGTON (AP) — Approximately 73.8 per cent of the enrollment in District of Columbia public schools opening next Monday will be Negroes, school officials estimate. It was 71.2 per cent last year.

Enrollment of white pupils in the public schools in the nation's capital has decreased steadily since 1935. Negroes have outnumbered whites since 1950. The schools were integrated in 1954.

Estimates made public Thursday by School Supt. Carl F. Hansen were that this year's enrollment will total 113,500, of which 83,763 will be Negroes and 29,737 whites.

CHURCHES IN AMERICA—Over 104 million Americans—an estimated 61 per cent of the population—were listed as members of churches and synagogues in 1957. So reports the National Council of Churches, an interfaith organization embracing 33 constituent communions, in its latest Yearbook of American Churches. This percentage is the second highest on record (62 per cent in 1956) and nearly double that at the turn of the century. Chart above shows some of the figures compiled by the council's Bureau of Research and Survey, covering 255 church bodies in this country. One difficulty in assembling membership figures is the fact that churches use different methods of counting, some including all baptized infants and others only those who have sought and attained membership. Besides membership rise, there were increases in Sunday School enrollment, contributions and new church construction, the latter at an all-time high of 868 million dollars.

Erie Resident Held In Drowning of Companion

ERIE (AP)—John Daniels, 23, of Erie, today was held without bail on a voluntary manslaughter charge in the drowning of Richard Keyes, 42, of Jersey City, N. J.

Keyes drowned in Lake Erie last Aug. 18. Deputy Coroner Merle Wood and City Detectives George Radaker and Arthur Bonamuno testified that Daniels pushed Keyes into deep water near Holland St.

The two policemen said Daniels and Keyes, who was vacationing in Erie, apparently had been drinking.

A Little Girl Lends Credence to Identity

Police today are looking for a "heavy set" woman with a little girl who foisted a worthless $76 check on an unsuspecting merchant Wednesday.

Police Chief Mike Egan said the check passer entered the store leading her little accomplice by the hand bought a $20 dress, then walked out with $56 change.

Once heavy set, the woman is now heavier set. She signed the check "Lucille Haney."

Object Believed a Meteor Crashes Virginia Power Line

APPALACHIA, Va. (AP) — An object — which a power company official believes was a meteor — smashed against a power line tower atop a mountain peak near this southwest Virginia town Thursday, damaging the tower.

"We think it was a meteor," said W. C. Skeens, Old Dominion Power Co. service manager. He described the object as being 4 1/2 feet by 3 1/2 feet, and said it had "a terrible odor, like sulphur."

Another Old Dominion official said crewmen at the scene estimated the object's weight at between 1,000 and 2,000 pounds.

Skeens said the object struck a 55-foot tower supporting the Old Dominion's 33,000-volt line, bent a tower arm, broke insulators and shorted the circuit. A 4x4 inch angle iron leg of the tower was burned off at the ground.

Skeens said he went to a spot about a mile from the tower Thursday night and the area was lit from the glow at the tower base. The object stayed red hot, he said.

Old Dominion crews made temporary repairs and restored service over the line. They started permanent repairs today.

SLEEPING SICKNESS

SEOUL (AP) — Sleeping sickness — encephalitis — has killed 1,087 Koreans, mostly children, out of 4,911 patients, South Korean health officials said today. A Seoul newspaper said the government's "half-hearted" mosquito killing drive was largely responsible for the epidemic. The mosquito is believed to carry the sleeping sickness virus.

Rule Against

schools later if he finds they are entitled to such transfers.

Bryan said he will make his final ruling after the Supreme Court rules in the Little Rock case. The high court will hear arguments in the Little Rock case Sept. 11.

On another Virginia legal front, Federal Dist. Judge Walter E. Hoffman upheld the Norfolk School Board's action in rejecting eight Negroes' applications for admission to a white school. The board said even if admitted to the school the eight would be transferred to the new Negro school to be built in time for enrollment next September. The judge agreed with the board that this would involve too many transfers for the best interests of the applicants.

The eight were among 134 Negroes whose applications for white schools were denied by the board at the same time it was said it would assign 17 other Negroes to white schools.

But the status of those 17 is hazy now. Gov. J. Lindsay Almond issued a policy statement advising local school boards involved in integration litigation to steer clear of assigning any Negro pupils to white schools.

No federal decree—even from the Supreme Court—can require such an affirmative action of the local authority, he said. The governor added that Virginia's Pupil Placement Act has stripped local boards of their assignment powers and given them to the central State Pupil Placement Board.

Asked if he meant the Norfolk board should reverse its stand and refuse to assign the 17 Negroes to white schools, Almond replied: "Precisely that."

Formosa Rejects

extending the sea territory it claims around the contested islands and Formosa as well.

The Nationalist Foreign Ministry spokesman termed the Communist proclamation null and void.

The Communist declaration was taken in some quarters here as an attempt to forestall U. S. 7th Fleet ships from escorting Nationalist supply vessels whose trips to embattled Quemoy Island have been curtailed by Red gunfire.

The Nationalist defense headquarters reported that up to early afternoon only 60 Red shells had landed on the offshore islands. The previous day only 144 shells were reported.

This was the quietest period since the Reds triggered the newest Formosa Strait crisis by loosing a 58,000-shell bombardment on Quemoy and the neighboring Tan Islands Aug. 23.

American newsmen back from a visit to Quemoy said damage from the two weeks of shelling was remarkably slight. Most of the Red gunfire has been directed at the shoreline and airfield where hits cause little damage and can be easily repaired, they reported.

White Youths

Van Buren, a west Arkansas city of 6,000, integrated its high school under a federal court order in September 1957. Thirteen Negroes are enrolled.

There were no reports of violence last year but resistance to integration exploded when the 1958-59 fall term started Tuesday. Taunting signs were daubed on school walls and sidewalks and a knot of white youths jostled the Negroes who attended classes Tuesday.

Some of the Negroes walked out Wednesday and said later that white classmates had threatened to get them after school.

A leader of the strikers who milled about the high school for hours Thursday said the group would return every day for six days until the Negroes were removed. "At the end of those six days, if the Negroes are not out, then we will put them out for good," he said.

Motel Fire

Trying to get out a window and onto the roof because the stairs were cut off by smoke and flame. My sister-in-law had a big cut on one arm. I guess she smashed a window and was overcome. Oh, it was terrible."

Firemen from Blairsville and Black Lick extinguished the flames quickly. About one third of the building was destroyed.

The cause of the fire could not be established.

Glenn Strayer was the son of C. D. Strayer who operated another motel near Blairsville. The younger Strayer had been supervising operation of the motel which caught fire.

The motel was on old Route 22 about 42 miles east of Pittsburgh.

The company's system extends from Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama and Georgia up the Atlantic Seaboard to Pennsylvania.

Alcohol Tax Income Show Huge Decrease

WASHINGTON (AP) — Conviviality appears to have been among the victims of the business recession.

The Treasury reported today that alcohol tax collections in the year ended June 30 dropped $26,734,000 below those of the previous year, reflecting smaller liquor sales.

Most of the decline to a total of $2,946,461,000 was the result of diminished demand for whiskey, gin and other distilled spirits. Beer and wine sales were off only fractionally.

But spirits revived with last spring's economic upturn. In the April-May-June quarter alcohol tax collections totaled $749,410,000, well ahead of collections in the same quarter last year.

Phillies' Reliever Victim Of Braves' 10-Inning Win

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

When the last out was made in the All-Star Game, the National League had only one hero in defeat, Philadelphia's reliever Dick Farrell.

He had shut out the American League without a hit, striking out Jensen, Skowron, Malone and Ted Williams in a near-perfect two innings that came too late.

Farrell had been just as effective for the Phillies. He had been in half their previous 30 games and had figured in more than half their 18 victories with a 5-0 record and five saves in a month-long battle from seventh place to fourth, just 2½ games shy of the lead.

He's been yesterday's hero since. He has won only once in seven decisions and has managed just four saves in 22 appearances.

He's been battered for 25 earned runs in 29 innings over that span. The kid right-hander took his lumps again Thursday night, getting tagged for four runs on four hits as Milwaukee whipped the Phils 9-5 in 10 innings.

That kept the Braves' lead at nine games over San Francisco as the Giants broke a tie for second with rain-idled Pittsburgh by walloping Los Angeles 13-3. St. Louis defeated the Chicago Cubs 4-2 with Sam Jones becoming the third NL pitcher in 30 years to strike out 200 in one season.

Willie Mays had three hits, one his 28th home run, for the Giants, who scored eight runs in the first inning. Stu Miller (5-7), the little junk man, went all the way, giving up five hits. Carl Furillo drove in all the Dodger runs, with a sacrifice fly and two-run single. Johnny Podres (12-12) lost it.

Bunning Finds It Difficult To Regain a Winning Stride

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Jim Bunning is finding the American League's no-hitter jinx a tough whammy to whip.

The lean right-hander who won 20 for Detroit last season seemed to be back in form when he pitched his 3-0 no-hitter against Boston July 30. It was his sixth victory in his last seven decisions. Since then things have been rough, just as it was for Bobo Holloman, Mel Parnell and Bob Keegan—the last three to pitch no-hitters in the AL.

Holloman got his in his first major league start with the St. Louis Browns back in 1953. He didn't complete another game in the majors and was out of business two months later.

Parnell, the hard-luck guy of the Boston Red Sox, got his in 1956—then went into self-imposed retirement because of injury less than a year later.

Keegan was the only major leaguer to pitch a no-hitter last year. The Chicago White Sox sent him to the minors this season.

Bunning hasn't been able to pitch a complete game in nine starts since his big day in Boston, and has lost four of six decisions. Thursday he won for only the second time since the no-hitter, beating the White Sox 11-4. But he again wasn't around for the finish—after pitching perfect ball for the first four innings.

The loss dropped the Sox 12½ games behind idle New York again and reduced the Yankees' pennant-clinching magic number to nine.

Pitching—Juan Pizarro. Braves, allowed only one hit in 5 2-3 innings of shutout relief for a 10-inning, 9-5 victory over the Phils, who had rapped starter Lew Burdette for a dozen hits.

Hitting—Pete Runnels, Red Sox, doubled home the tying run and singled home the clincher in 15-2 victory over the Orioles.

Sad Sam Jones Has 200 Strikeouts To Record for '58

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Teammates are calling him Emperor Jones now that Sad Sam has become the first National League pitcher in 17 years to strike out more than 200 batters in a single season.

The 6-4 right-hander ran his total to 201 by striking out 8 in pitching the St. Louis Cardinals to a 5-hit 4-2 verdict over the Cubs in Chicago Thursday. He also had a pair of singles.

The big Negro, whose slow shuffling movements carry no bluff to the fast ball and sharp curves with which he confounds the batters, takes special pride in surpassing the Cardinal club record of 199 season strikeouts set by Dizzy Dean 25 years ago.

A silent man, never in Dean's class as a talker, Jones had little to say about his achievement in the clubhouse and on the plane trip back to St. Louis after the contest.

"I'm happy about it, all right," he said. "This Wrigley Field seems to be my luck park. But did you notice those two singles I belted?"

It was at Wrigley Field on May 12, 1955, when Jones was pitching for the Cubs, that he pitched a no-hitter against Pittsburgh.

The league strikeout record of 267 for a single season was set by Christy Mathewson of New York in 1903. The last National League pitcher to surpass the 200-mark was Cincinnati's Johnny Vandermeer in 1941 with 202.

Basilio Favored To Win Battle With Aragon Tonight

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Battle-tested Carmen Basilio of New York and California's unpredictable Art (Golden Boy) Aragon fight for 12 rounds or less tonight, with the winner hoping to get a title shot at Middleweight Champion Sugar Ray Robinson.

Tonight at 7 o'clock (PDT) they climb into the ring at Wrigley Field before an expected turnout of 20,000 or more, plus thousands more across the nation who can watch the fight on NBC television.

The Los Angeles area for a 300-mile radius will be blacked out.

Basilio, rugged little gent from Chittanooga in Upper New York State, will be at least a 3-1 favorite.

Basilio, 31, held the world welterweight title and then won and lost the middleweight crown. He has fought far and away a better brand of men, and whipped most of them, in 55 ring appearances.

Aragon admits that Basilio may be the toughest man he has ever faced in 102 matches.

Cooper Decides He'll Have to Better Service

FOREST HILLS, N. Y. (AP)—Ashley Cooper of Australia admitted today there was just one obstacle that might keep him from winning the national tennis championship.

"I've got to improve on my service," he said. "Otherwise I'm playing well enough to win this tournament."

"Anyhow, I'm not seeded No. 1 this year and that takes some of the pressure off. If you're No. 1 and you win, you're just doing what's expected of you."

Cooper, who moved into the semifinals with a 9-7, 6-1, 3-6, 6-2 victory over Vic Seixas Thursday, figures that in the final he will meet his Davis Cup teammate Mal Anderson in a replay of last year's championship.

First, he must get past Neale Fraser, the left-handed Aussie who turned back Alex Olmedo of Peru 3-6, 6-1, 8-6, 3-6, 6-3.

In today's quarter-finals, Anderson went up against Dick Savitt and Herbie Flam met Uli Schmidt.

A. P. Sports Writer Takes Look at American League

Fourth and Last of a Series

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—American League officials, who wouldn't dare say so privately, are convinced the only way to stop the New York Yankee stampede is through legislation.

With Manager Casey Stengel about to clinch his ninth pennant in 10 years, and with the probability of another half-dozen seasons under these present conditions, there seems no way out of the dilemma unless some off-the-field action is taken.

One of the staunchest advocates of some kind of legislation is Frankie Lane. The general manager of the Cleveland Indians is one of the few men who has refused to take the Yankee domination of the American League lying down.

He plans to re-introduce proposals to reduce the reserve list from 25 players to 21, and to forbid the opening of players with four years of minor league experience. These proposals were defeated in the 1957 winter meetings.

"Reduced player limits would tend to equalize the competition," he said. "All clubs would lose some maneuverability, but the players they'd have to let go might help some other clubs. The Yankees would be hurt the most, because it stands to reason their last four men figure to be better than any other club's last four."

"We're in this thing together to maintain a healthy interest in baseball," Lane added.

Proposing legislation to curb the winning habits of the Yankees is nothing new.

In 1935, after the Yankees had won four straight pennants, the late Clark Griffith of Washington led a movement which resulted in the passage of a discriminatory rule. This rule prevented any American League pennant winner from trading the following year. In 1940, the Yankees finished third to Detroit and Cleveland and the rule was rescinded.

Some baseball people feel baseball must spread out to survive. They suggest expanding the major leagues to 10 or even 12 clubs. They refute the argument that such a move would create more second division teams by pointing out that it would also create more first division teams.

A violent antagonist of all such proposals is George Weiss, general manager of the Yankees.

"All these suggestions, as I see them are merely stop-gap tactics on the part of clubs temporarily hurting," said Weiss.

"I hate to see baseball go through a temporary situation established on grab-bag tactics as unlimited draft, first-year draft, reducing player limits, etc. It would hurt baseball more than it would help."

"What would be the incentive for initiative, hard work, aggressiveness? What would be the incentive to scouting? People who talk that way haven't thought this thing through. Baseball is founded on competition. Once you destroy that and try to make it a lottery the public will resent it and lose all interest."

Johannson Beating Machen Would Give Patterson Foe

By HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor

NEW YORK—(NEA)—Eddie Machen's invasion of Sweden is made interesting by the fact that it could set up the first international heavyweight championship match of any consequence in 21 years, or since Tommy Farr came out of the Welsh coal mines to rather surprisingly go 15 rounds with Joe Louis.

Machen, who shares the top ranking among the challengers with Zora Foley, is down for 15 rounds with Sweden's ingemar Johannson in Stockholm on Sept. 14.

Over Machen, Johannson would take dead aim at Floyd Patterson.

In that event, and if cautious Cos D'Amato didn't care to take his tiger to Stockholm, where my operatives report that such a fight would pack the biggest soccer stadium, this would be a tremendous attraction in London.

AND IT JUST SO HAPPENS that Patterson really wants to appear there under the auspices of his crusading manager's private Piccadilly promoter, Harry Levene.

It was this same Johannson who knocked Levene out of a Patterson date last spring by forcing Joe Erskine, the Englishman, to retire in the 13th heat in Stockholm.

Johannson, a handsome 25-year-old and as un-European as a European champion can be, must be given some sort of a chance against Machen, the Californian with the peckaboo defense. His six-year record as a professional is impeccable . . . 21 straight with 13 knockouts. He is an aggressive brawler with a fine pair of legs and has demonstrated that he can take a punch.

An early rap against Johannson is that he quit in the Olympic Games final of 1952. For the record, he was disqualified in the second round for not trying, but the truth is that the late Big Ed Sanders of Los Angeles averted a 19-year-old.

"Since then, Johannson, wealthy now and in three different businesses, has been carefully brought along by Edwin Ahlqvist, a wealthy printer and publisher turned beak-busting entrepreneur. His campaigning has largely been confined to Sweden because he is the sole magnetic attraction there.

He did go to Bologna, Italy, to acquire the European crown by flattening Franco Cavicchi and become the biggest thing in Sweden since Greta Garbo.

AHLQVIST HAS INVITED Foley, Willie Pastrano and Roy Harris to Stockholm, but Machen is the first ranking performer to accept.

Ahlqvist even brought Johannson to New York in 1955 to observe American methods. The young man spent a month in Stillman's Gymnasium under the aegis of Nick Florio, the veteran trainer who assists his brother, Dan, in Patterson's corner.

"He was a fast kid and moved good then," recalls Nick. Ingemar Johannson could stir up excitement among the heavyweights for the first time since Rocky Marciano turned potato farmer.

Move of Senators May Find Support Of Detroit Owner

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Washington Senators may find unexpected support if they seek American League approval of a move to Minneapolis. They also face opposition if the question comes up at a league meeting next Monday.

Two club owners, Harvey R. Hansen of Detroit and Dan Topping of New York, refused to commit themselves. But Hansen indicated he would not interfere if Senators' President Calvin Griffith pleads a convincing case for transferring the team. Topping hinted he would object.

Detroit had been one of the clubs reported against moving the Senators.

Griffith took steps to keep himself free of local chains at the Monday meeting in Chicago. His attorney prepared to oppose a stockholder's request for a court order temporarily restraining Griffith from discussing a franchise shift.

The order was sought by Robert R. Rodenberg, ex-owner of the Baltimore Colts football team, who holds 75 shares of Senators' stock. H. Gabriel Murphy, who commands more than 40 per cent of the shares, also has thrown a federal court suit against an upland for a move.

The road runner bird is a member of the cuckoo family and relies more on its feet than on its wings for transportation.

Speaking of Sports

College football is on the upward trend in activity with Thiel College in Greenville and Lehigh University at Bethlehem announcing grid plans for upcoming year. Thiel's squad of 38 will be composed of 16 lettermen, who Coach Joseph DiFebo's counting on to better last year's season record of four wins, four losses.

Ron Sanden, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Sanden, 306 Union street, will be end for the Tomcats this season. A sophomore at Thiel, Ron was a Dragon griddier for three seasons, a track member for three years, also.

Other area players will be Jim Konnerth, Erie Strong Vincent, halfback, sophomore, and Jim Rumbaugh, Corry, guard, sophomore.

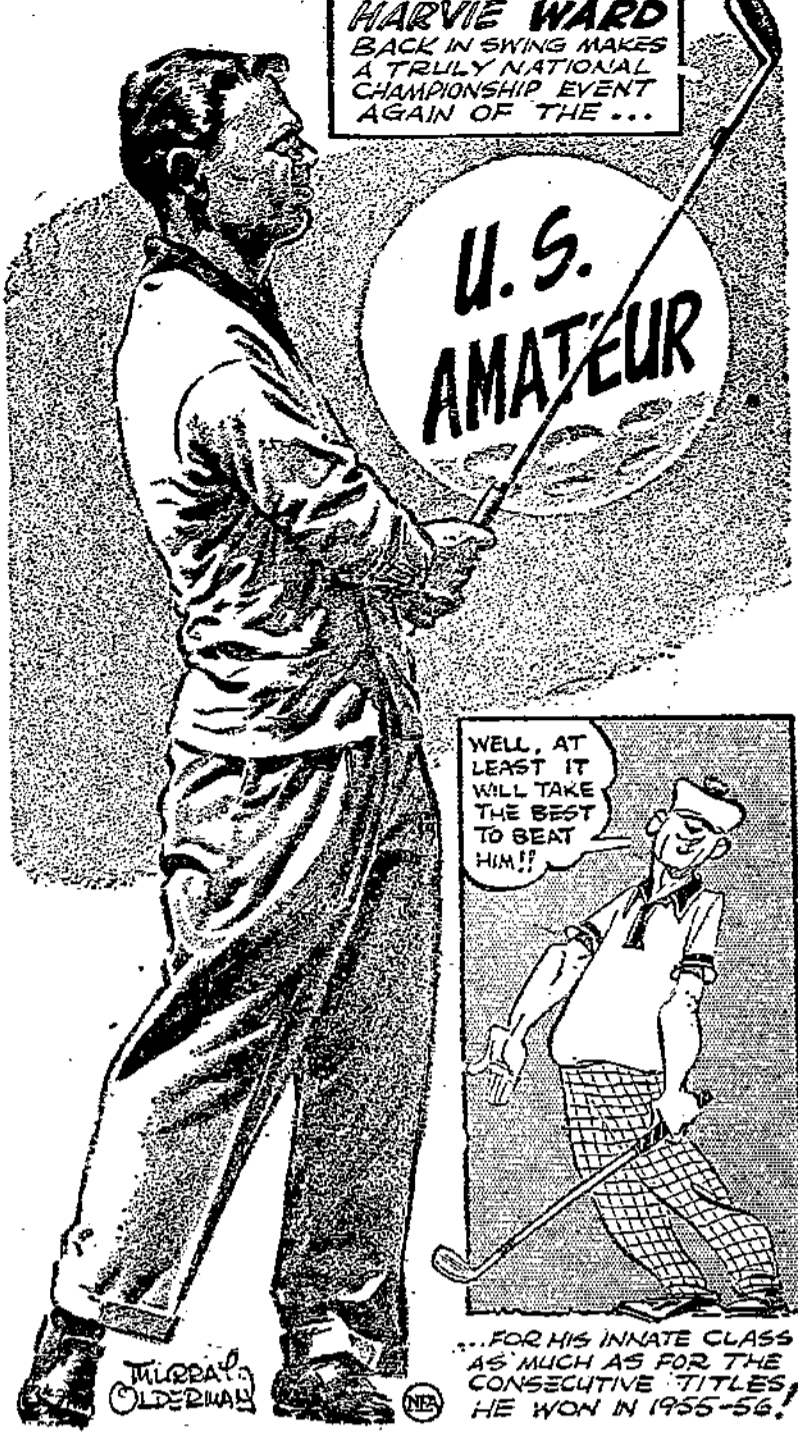

Lehigh began drills today with a squad of 50 candidates. Engineers open their season Sept. 27. Five starters from the 1957 squad which posted an 8-1 record and captured the first Lambert Cup, symbol of Eastern small college football supremacy, are back. A total of 10 lettermen return.

Seley Farms at Atlantic, Pa., will again open its 1,000 level acres to pheasant hunters beginning October 1. This season, 18,000 fully plumaged, long tailed ringnecks for daily release have been reared. Natural cover of the farm for rabbits, quail, woodcock, and grouse abound even though they have never been stocked. This game is free during legal Pennsylvania season but, for the birds, two hens and two cocks at $20, while three cocks and one hen are $22. 50. If first 4 birds are cocks, the charge is $25. Reduced prices of $3.50 per hen and $4.50 per cock apply after first 4 birds are taken. You're expected to shoot 4 birds, and they'll see you get at least that. Guns and ammunition are not furnished, but if you run out of shells, they have a few on hand. You're welcome to bring your own dog, but they have bird dogs, even pups, there.

Last year, Pirates had a 12-17 record for same period. . . ## Gerarde May Be Joining Stable Of Basilio Manager

(By LARRY)

When Carmen Basilio meets Art Aragon on tonight's Friday Night Fights on TV, area fans will be able to see Rocky Gerarde's probable professional manager, Johnny DeJohn, Basilio's boss.

DeJohn, one of seven fighting brothers, has made his bid for Rocky with high hopes of putting him on top like Basilio. Carmen's climb to Middleweight king was a long, carefully-watched procedure.

In tonight's 10-rounder, Basilio is favored 4-1.

After they return from the west coast, where this evening's match is staged, Johnny has invited Gerarde and trainer Joe Fazio to Syracuse. DeJohn is interested in seeing Rocky work out. The trip will be made within three weeks.

Locally, Rocky and Joe Campagna, up and coming fighter, have been training in YMCA nightly, resuming the pace after a summer "slow down." Don Elbaum, boxing promoter, has promised to match Campagna with another "green boy" in Erie shortly.

Gerarde has received a pro offer from Florida which is also under consideration, and another from St. Louis. It was rumored in higher boxing circles that Pete Rademacher was interested in The Rock.

No amateur boxing shows are on the Warren agenda for a few months.

Weekly Steel Report

By JOHN MOODY
AP Business Writer

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The steel industry is investing huge sums of money in big new sintering plants that process iron ore for more efficient use in blast furnaces.

In recent months U. S. Steel Corp. and Weirton Steel Co. have put new sintering plants into operation. U. S. Steel expects to have three more operating before the end of the year.

Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp. completed a new plant late last year. Several other steel firms either have sintering plants under construction or are giving such projects serious thought.

The big investment in sintering plants is another move by steel producers to get more pig iron out of present blast furnaces.

Some steel producers say ore prepared in sintering plants is increasing blast furnace capacity from 15 to 25 per cent. Also, less coke, an expensive item, is needed with sintered ore.

In the sintering process fine particles of ore mixed with coke are fed into a continuously moving grate. A special furnace beneath the grate ignites the mixture and fuses it into clinker-like chunks.

The ore utilized to make sinter is too fine to be introduced into a blast furnace without the sintering process. Most of it would be lost in the form of dust going up the blast furnace stack.

Sintering plants are not new in the steel industry but until now most of the plants have been small. The old plants were used to reclaim ore dust that did blow up the furnace flues.

But in recent years top quality ore has been growing scarce and steel firms have turned to low grade ores that must be crushed and powdered to extract the iron.

The use of the low grade ores boomed the sintering plants and steel companies now are building plants capable of turning out several thousand tons of sintered ore daily.

Weirton Steel's sintering plant was the biggest when it was put into operation, capable of turning out 6,000 tons a day. U. S. Steel's has a capacity of 5,000 tons daily.

But bigger plants are being planned. Two of the three that U. S. Steel expects to put into operation later this year will be larger.

The Great Lakes Steel Corp. also is constructing a larger plant.

U. S. Steel said it has plants near completion at Gary, Ind., and in Butler County, Pa. Both of which will have three times the daily capacity of the one put into operation recently at Youngstown, Ohio.

The weekly metal working magazine, Iron Age, reported recently that with current projects the steel industry will have about 60 million tons of sintering capacity.

The magazine said the sintering operations may be able to add 30 to 40 million tons of iron making capacity to existing blast furnaces by using the sintered ore.

George Gershwin completed his "Rhapsody in Blue" on Jan. 7, 1924.
